

OVERVIEW

The NCFE Level 3 Award in Education and Training is designed for individuals who want to begin a career in teaching, training, or learning delivery. This qualification develops the essential skills needed to plan, deliver and assess effective learning sessions across further education, workplace training and adult learning environments.

Delivered fully remotely by Educationwise, learners can study flexibly at their own pace with full tutor support, making it ideal for those balancing work, study, and personal commitments.

Key Features

- Develops essential skills in planning, delivering, and assessing learning sessions
- Builds understanding of teaching roles, responsibilities, and inclusive practice
- Strengthens communication and learner engagement skills
- Covers principles of assessment and effective feedback
- Includes microteaching to develop practical delivery experience
- Delivered fully online with flexible access to learning materials and tutor support
- Progression into higher-level teaching, training, and assessing qualifications

The following units are available during this qualification

Module	Topic
Mandatory	Understanding Roles, Responsibilities and Relationships in Education and Training
Optional	Understanding and Using Inclusive Teaching and Learning Approaches in Education and Training
Optional	Facilitate Learning and Development for Individuals
Optional	Facilitate Learning and Development in Groups
Optional	Understanding Assessment in Education and Training
Optional	Understanding the Principles and Practices of Assessment

ABOUT THE COURSE

What you will learn

- Understanding the roles, responsibilities and professional standards of a teacher or trainer
- How to plan and deliver engaging and structured learning sessions
- Inclusive teaching and learning strategies to support diverse learner needs
- Principles of assessment and how to provide effective feedback
- Communication techniques to engage learners and support progression
- How to create a positive and supportive learning environment
- Reflective practice and continuous professional development in teaching
- Understanding how to support learner achievement in education and training settings

Cost: £299 - A one-time payment covers the full cost of the course and all learning materials.

Progression

Completion of this qualification can lead to:

- Progression into teaching, training, and learning delivery roles across education and workplace settings
- Opportunities to work as a tutor, trainer, or learning facilitator in further education or adult learning
- Development into assessment and instructional roles within training environments
- A strong foundation for further study in education and training qualifications such as assessing or quality assurance

Why Choose This Course?

- Fully remote and flexible delivery designed for busy learners and professionals
- Focused on practical teaching, training, and assessment skills for real education environments
- Supported by experienced tutors with specialist knowledge in education and training
- Can be funded via Advanced Learner Loan for accessible upskilling
- Recognised qualification that opens progression into teaching, training, and assessing roles

The NCFE Level 3 Award in Education and Training is the ideal starting point for anyone looking to begin a career in teaching or training. It provides a strong foundation of essential knowledge and practical skills needed to plan, deliver, and assess effective learning sessions.

This qualification is designed to build confidence from day one, helping learners create engaging learning environments and support a wide range of learners. It focuses on real-world application, preparing you for the day-to-day responsibilities of a teacher or trainer.

Delivered fully online with expert tutor support, it offers flexibility to study around existing commitments while gaining a nationally recognised qualification. Whether starting out or progressing into higher-level teaching and assessing qualifications, this course gives you the platform to move forward with confidence.

