HOW IT WORKS

Learners undergo a 10-week training program, where they are taught the fundamentals of the role. Upon completing the Bootcamp, Employers interview the candidate(s) and review their progress.

If you're satisfied with their performance, you can choose to bring them on as a full-time employee.

This is an ideal way to ensure a candidate is a strong fit for your team's culture and values, reducing the risks of long-term hiring decisions!
